

Dr. Pamela Johnson
Co-founder and Executive Vice President.

Dr. Pamela Johnson, is one of the world's leading experts on electronic government and public sector technology applications and also has 15 years' experience in international public health. Before co-founding Voxiva, she was Deputy Director of the White House Task Force on Reinventing Government where she led many of the federal government's electronic government initiatives and achieved $136 billion in budget savings. As Director of the Efficiency Board of the United Nations, she led the effort to streamline the UN's operations. Before that, she was the coordinator for child survival at the U.S. Agency for International Development overseeing public health programs in 50 countries. She has a Ph.D. in medical anthropology from the University of California, Berkeley.